

Sheelagh Schockmann, b 1939, Waterloo Road

First independent holiday, went with two girlfriends renting a chalet at Skegness (was living with parents at Walworth SE17), it was 1957, we had a wonderful time, first time horse riding, roller skating and using tricycles into town, dancing every night. Went again in 1960 to Pwllheli in Wales, this time on camp committee and had a romance with university student from Manchester, working at Butlins Camp.

In later life went camps several times with husband and family, each member could have their own interest and the children were kept amused. In 1975 to Bognor and also to Brixham, beautiful part of Devon. Had no car so the coach would take us to the camps. (Do have several photos) all happy memories. Took parents when she first got married.
